GOOD RACING ON THE CLOSING DAY. THE HAGGIN STABLE WINS A RACE AT LAST BUT

HIDALGO IS BEATEN. The presperous and profitable June meeting of the Coney Island Jockey-Club was closed yesterday with an attendance so large that all the officials and memhers of the club were greatly gratified, while as the ladies were out in brilliant troops admirably arrayed, the quality of the attendance was delightful. Although the most efficient of superintendents, Frank Clarke, had done an immense amount of work on the track, it was still slow and sticky from the effects of the recent storm, as the time made in the various contests proved clearly. But the racing was varied, picturesque, a'ssorbing and exciting. Indeed the whole meeting has abounded in sport of rare merit and attractiveness. It is a grievous pity that it should have been marred in some cases by variations of forms so startling and inexplicable as to leave behind them rankling and bitterness. But these things will inevitably happen until boodle bookmakers, corrupt trainers and dishonest jockeys are detected, exposed and driven out. Fortunately there were no scandals yesterday. The jockeys generally seemed to have their bicep muscles sufficiently under control to give their mounts a fair show, and strong favorites ran in a suspicious manner or failed to win by short heads when they could win none, Valiant 6 to 5. without difficulty by a dozen lengths.

Although the meeting did not open brightly for Mr. Belmont, his stable has done well, having captthree of the richest stakes of the meetingthe Coney Island Derby, the Emporium and the Spin od riding would have brought some others to swell Mr. Belmont's racing account, but let that eass now. Although the Dwyers won some stakes SIXTH RACE-PURSE $600. SELLING. SEVEN and purses, the meeting has been, on the whole, extremely unlucky for them. Many of their horses have been alling, and they have been disappointed repeatedly when they had reason to expect success.

Not enhance the description of all stables has been that of Mr. But unluckiest of all stables has been that of Mr. Haggin, with its portentous forfeit list and huge ex-He seemed almost sure of getting two races esterday, but Hidalgo was sore and stiff and was hadly beaten in the Stirrup Cup, leaving Aurelia's victory in the little over-night handicap, which was the second race, the only triumph of the day for this stable and the first race which it has won at this The feature of the day was the double success of Belmont in the Spindrift Stakes, his $17,500 Raceland, winning with an case made even "Lucky" Baldwin, Emperor of Norfolk, shiver Emperor if he had seen it, while his $10,000 colt, George Oyster, ran second, both beating off the field, which was composed of Tristan, Tea Tray, Bendigo and My Own. It was George Oyster's first race this year. He has leveloped into a big, lusty colt, of prodigious muscular power and no small speed, as he showed in this race, though Raceland shot away from him in the home stretch as if he could lose him at any time. Of course the Belmont Stable was a great favorite in the betting, and the pair never gave their friends an instant's J. T. nt Stable was a great favorite in the betanxiety, although Bendigo was allowed to open a big gap in the second quarter mile. But on the backtretch Raceland moved up to him with his wonder fully smooth, gilding action, which eats up space with almost imperceptible speed, and Bendigo's bolt was On the lower turn Godfrey on Raceland indulged Garrison on George Oyster with the lead, but in the last furlong he bade a brief and hurried fareell to Garrison, and left him behind as if George Oyster were tied to a post. As the Belmont pair got Booker place $17.70 both first and second places, all the place money in the French pools went to the Belmont place tickets, which paid more than the Belmont straight tickets.

Belmont was not present to see the oners which his stable won. But in his happy reams last night he must have seen visions of laurels and prizes in the Lorillard, the Omnibus, the Choice ther big three-year-old stakes at Monmouth Park. He now has a pair of trumps in his hand which can relied on to do him immense service in the great game of racing, while in Prince Royal he has an ace of another suit which will not be trumped so often some people fancy.

amade the favorite, as her form in her only previous race-at Brooklyn-was good. But she was ding weight to the others and tired in the homestretch, Flood Tide winning easily with a final rush at the outside, while Tenny beat Winfield by a short ead only for second place.

Favor was first in most of the betting on the second but Aurelia was on almost even rith him. The light weight, The carried Favor along so fast that he sulked and dropped out of the race on the lower Garrison gave Aurelia a couple of cuts with whip and rode her out. She won the race in this way by a length with some ease, while The Bourban beat Brother Ban for second place by a that Aurelia ought to have beaten Rupert without the salehtest difficulty on Wednesday.

It was odds on Hidalgo in the Stirrup Cup, and his access seemed to racing experts almost as great a ertainty as was that of Aurelia and that of Raco land. But he was sore and stiff, and although Gar-rison used the whip without stint and rode hard, Hidalgo did not display his usual speed, swerved badly at the head of the homestretch and came home third. third. Le Loges getting first place and puncoyaesecond.

The last three races were won in the easiest posbible manner by the three favorites, Long Knight.
Housatonic and Exile. It was reported that the Dwyers had put $2,500 on Joe Cettor, but the poor old horse bled in the head and could do nothing. The only incident in these final races which caused unfavorable comment was the atrocious running of Satisfaction in the sixth race. She was a good second to King Crab on Friday and ran creditably. Yesterday she was far behind the others all the way.

But in most of the races public form was well borne out by the results, four favorites won and people went home happy.
